SanDisk Computing Lab
199 Cory

199 Cory is an instructional computing and collaboration lab available to all students in EECS classes. A generous donation from SanDisk (www.sandisk.com) has renovated the lab and its vicinity with these new features:

- New hallway window, door, lighting: creates a well-lit, airy space
- New tables, chairs, sofa, carpet, paint: creates a comfortable, cheerful space
- Shared table, large video display: enhances group collaboration
- Extra electrical, network connections: increases productivity for laptop users

Come to the Grand Opening:
Fri April 18, 2014, 11am

Thank you, SanDisk!

Dept of EECS, UC Berkeley